

To our customers and business partners,

March 2020

due to the current situation regarding the coronavirus, we would like to inform you about the current situation at Gühring.

For the production of the raw material carbide, the Gühring Group has two own production plants in Germany. We procure any remaining materials within the European Economic Area. It goes without saying that we still maintain preventive redundant suppliers for our raw materials. We are in constant contact with them and regularly have their ability to deliver confirmed.

Furthermore, extensive contingency plans are in place and all production facilities are fully operational. It goes without saying that we follow the recommendations of the Robert Koch Institute and take various safety precautions to protect our employees and customers.

No supply bottlenecks are to be feared at present.

Should this situation change, we will inform you immediately.

Stay healthy!

Yours sincerely,

Gühring KG
